OUR CAPABILITIES

Perforated mesh has the potential to greatly elevate a building's aesthetic. Providing both privacy and ventilation while creating intriguing patterns of light and shadow. This versatile material can be customized to complement any architectural style, making it a popular choice for modern facades. In addition to its visual appeal, perforated mesh offers durability and low maintenance, ensuring that buildings maintain their striking appearance over time as illustrated in our Cabravale Diggers project showcased below.

Windows and doors are our specialty as featured above on our Neutral Bay project. Whether used as a subtle accent or a bold statement, it enhances the overall character of a structure, adding a touch of sophistication and innovation. We ensure that every window and door is a perfect blend of form and function.
